THE BRITISH SOCIETY FOR EIGHTEENTH-CENTURY STUDIES

The British Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies promotes the study of all aspects of eighteenth-century cultural history.

BSECS is open to anyone interested in any aspect of the eighteenth century.

Its members are scholars and members of the public from all over the world with a diverse range of interests in the history, art history, architecture, literature and culture of the eighteenth century.

The Society publishes the British Journal for Eighteenth Century Studies twice a year, and a bulletin every quarter. It organises a major conference every January, and supports a number of smaller regional conferences throughout the year. It is affiliated to the International Society for Eighteenth Century Studies.

DEUTSCHE GESELLSCHAFT FÜR DIE ERFORSCHUNG DES 18. JAHRHUNDERTS

Die Deutsche Gesellschaft für die Erforschung des 18. Jahrhunderts e.V.

ist ein Zusammenschluß von zirka 900 Wissenschaftlern und wissenschaftlichen

Institutionen in Deutschland und im Ausland. Sie setzt sich die Erforschung der für das 18. Jahrhundert relevanten Fragen sowie deren geistesgeschichtlicher und systematischer Bedeutung zur Aufgabe. Sitz der Gesellschaft ist die

Herzog August Bibliothek.

In Zusammenarbeit mit der Abteilung Forschungsprojekte der Bibliothek befaßt sie sich mit Fragen zu wirkungs-, rezeptions- und ideengeschichtlichen Kontinuitäten und Diskontinuitäten seit der Frühen Neuzeit in den hierfür bedeutsamen Disziplinen wie der Theologie, Geschichtsforschung, Medizingeschichte, Literatur, Anthropologie und Wissenschaftsgeschichte.

SECAS - THE SOCIETY FOR EIGHTEENTH-CENTURY AMERICAN STUDIES

SECAS is the Early American Studies affiliate of the American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies (ASECS). The Society's newsletter, Publick Occurrences both Forreign and Domestick, is issued twice a year-Fall and Spring. SECAS aims to provide a forum for scholars of early American culture, construed as broadly as possible.

Like its parent society, ASECS, SECAS draws its membership from a wide range of disciplines: art history, philosophy, history, political science, law, English and comparative literature, and others.

UCLA CENTER FOR SEVENTEENTH- AND EIGHTEENTH-CENTURY STUDIES

The UCLA Center for Seventeenth- and Eighteenth-Century Studies and the William Andrews Clark Memorial Library are united under the administrative direction of the Center and UCLA's College of Letters and Science.

The goals of this combined unit are to encourage and facilitate the study of the early modern period and to develop, expand, and utilize the holdings and resources of the Clark. The Center/Clark seeks to foster innovative, interdisciplinary research, encourage public participation in its programs, and respond to the needs of the larger national and international scholarly community.
